

STATE OF LOGISTICS IN GREECE SURVEY 2013

WORLD BANK SURVEY TO STUDY STATE OF GREECE LOGISTICS.

The World Bank is conducting a national logistics survey in Greece throughout November. The first of its kind in the country, the survey will provide critical insight into what can be done to enhance the business environment and improve trade logistics in Greece.

If you are a Greek company working in the agricultural, manufacturing, trading or logistics sector, please take a few minutes to help us in filling out the survey. Available online, it should take less than 15 minutes to complete and is available in either Greek or English.

Survey questions cover issues such as logistics costs, logistics key performance indicators, and logistics outsourcing. Responses gathered from the survey will help to compare Greece against international benchmarks—including the World Bank's Logistics Performance Index (LPI). Complete findings and analysis will be available in early 2014.

The usefulness of the survey will depend on the response rate. We therefore strongly encourage your company to take the survey and to disseminate it throughout your professional network.
